Emoti-Con is NYC’s biggest showcase for young designers, makers, technologists, and tinkerers who believe in digital innovation as a tool for positive change in the world around them.

Each year, more than 200 of NYC’s most talented youth from learning programs across the five boroughs convene, connect, and compete to win top prizes in five categories, offering their voice about pressing issues and gaining vital exposure to industry mentors and a culture of innovation. Emoti-Con ensures that every young person in NYC can be part of a community that supports their dreams of participating to solve the challenges of their time.

This yearly event addresses the need for a space where youth from technology and media oriented organizations across NYC can:

- Collaborate with their peers
- Connect through their common identity as youth media producers and technologists and
- Receive recognition for the incredible work they do throughout the year!
